

THIS IS A SAMPLE ABSTRACT SUBMISSION
YOUR ABSTRACT TITLE SHOULD GO HERE
(TIMES NEW ROMAN Cap. 10pt, Bold)

John C. Welk and August F. Kelp (Times New Roman 10pt)
Institution, 1000 Water Street (Times New Roman 10pt, Italic)
Naomi, MD 11111 USA

Herbert D. Minor
Company Inc., Hobbs, NM 22222 USA

(Times New Roman 10pt from this point forward) Please start entering the text of your abstract here. Remember to delete this text when you are done reading this. This template is set up for formatting and submitting your abstract. Please do not change the layout or style of the template. Your cooperation is greatly appreciated and will result in a more professional-looking finished product for you and the ICOPS 2016 conference attendees. "Styles" are defined for the Title, Author/Byline Information, Abstract Text and References¹. Please do not change the margins, font, font size or overall style of this template. Please do not add any page numbers, because the printer will be adding page numbers later. We request that your abstract remain within a rectangle of 3.5 inch by 9.25 inch (9 cm by 23.5 cm). Thank you for your cooperation².

You are responsible for and will need to convert your document to PDF. Check the final version (including content, special characters, fonts etc.) to ensure that everything is correct before accepting the final submission. There are many ways to convert your file into a pdf. Many offices/departments have the Adobe Acrobat software available for use. You are encouraged to use PDF eXpress to confirm compliance.

1. J. C. Welk and A. F. Welk, "The Art of Formatting an Abstract", 31th International Conference on Plasma Sciences, June 28 - July 1, 2004, pp. 100-103.
2. H. D. Minor, "Increased Device Performance", 13th International Pulsed Power Conference, June 15-19, 2003, pp. 100-103.

Note: Although we do not encourage submitting a figure or a table, it is still permitted so long as abstract and figure/table fit on this page. Please make sure that the font you use in any figure is large enough so that it is legible.

* Work supported by a Government Agency